FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 3, 1926

Talking for Effect Only.

Mr. Meighen says he would put a duty on coal, and thus compel Ontario to pay more for Alberta and Nova Scotia coal than it has to pay for U.S. coal. He means that he would do it if he could; and there is no reason to doubt that. But nobody knows better than the thing cannot be done.

Mr. Meighen said the same thing in Edmonton a year ago. But did he propose anything of the kind during the session of parliament that has been held in the interval?

Or does he suppose that an Edmonton audience could be got to believe that Ontario members could be lined up to impose a coal duty upon their constituents in the next—or any other—parliament?

The Premier forgot that a good many of his Edmonton hearers were brought up in that province. They know the protectionist coal that has been sold in Ontario by miles and bounds, and from the inside out.

The last thing Ontario protectionists have any notion of doing is to protect anybody else at their own expense. And certainly that section of the Ontario people who are not protectionists have no intention of doing it.

Mr. Meighen would not be Premier of Canada if he were leader of the Conservative party. He had tried to impose a coal duty upon the people of Ontario in the last parliament. And his Government would not last any longer than his first attempt to railroad a coal duty through that parliament.

The Liberal policy of adjusting freight rates so as to make Alberta and Nova Scotia coal saleable in Ontario at competitive prices is the only practicable and mutually satisfactory solution of the national fuel problem.

Are the Public Interested?

Hon. J. A. Robt. estimated that the tax reductions announced in his budget four and a half months ago would leave $25,000,000 more in the pockets of the Canadian public at the end of the present fiscal year than they have been left there had the reductions not been made.

Calculations made at Ottawa show that the saving to the public is likely to be more, rather than less, than this sum. The detailed estimates are—

Postage	$ 5,500,000
Receipt stamps	750,000
Sale tax	300,000
Carbonic acid tax	25,000
Ship's stores	25,000
Automobiles	3,000,000
Income taxes	14,000,000
Total	$26,150,000

This amounts to a direct average saving of $3.00 for every man, woman and child in Canada. The city council of Edmonton could cut the taxation at the city of the capita rate, the city taxes on a household's home would be reduced from $12 to $15 in the hundred.

Refusal to restore the Mackenzie King government, which is existing on the Robt. budget, would be construed by the successor to that Government as proof that the Canadian people are not interested in reduced tax bills.

Liberal Fight for a Conservative Principle.

"The Ministry in Canada should stand in the same relation to the Governor-General that the Ministry in Great Britain stand in relation to the King."

In these words Hon. Mackenzie King stated to an Edmonton audience the constitutional principle for which Liberals are contending in this election, and that forms the basis of the whole sum and substance of the constitutional issue between them and the gentlemen who at present describe themselves as the Government of Canada.

Aside from believers in absolutism and apostles of bolshevism, who is to object to that maxim? Certainly not Conservatives. Every Conservative leader from Sir John Macdonald down, with the possible exception of Hon. Arthur Meighen, has held the same view, and expressed it in more or less similar words.

Whatever it is that we call itself, and whatever it may be properly called, the company of interlopers who are now spending the money of the people of Canada without license or license of Parliament or public do not constitute a "Conservative" Government.

These gentlemen are carrying on their high-handed operations under a form of the Conservative name, and are appealing to Conservative voters to sanction the use of that name as a badge of respectability for their political banditism.

The usurpation of Parliamentary rights, and of authority over the public by a cabinet of self-created, discredited and defeated Ministers is in no part of the creed of the Liberal party, and the fallow ground of the Liberal party is to fight a battle to preserve the constitutional principle that is the basic conception of sane Conservatism.

It is inconceivable that in this fight the Liberals will not have the help of a great mass of Conservatives who care more for the good name, the past and the future of their party than they do for its fate at the polls. They are trying to make that battle a party battle for the violation of its own cardinal doctrine.

Just Folks

by Edgar A. Guest

A MAN'S VIEW
I'm glad I'm not a wife,
I'd hate to spend my life
In the kitchen, and to wash
And scrub and scrub and wash.
I'm glad I'm not a wife,
How horrible would be
To have to spend a life
Just looking after me!
I'm sure I couldn't stand
Day in and out the sight
Of one so wise and kind,
And so superior right.

How can a woman prate
About the things she's late
Than, so sure, so wise,
Which never in the wrong?
I'm glad I'm not a wife,
Whom I would rather shun,
A man—such a fine fellow
With such a wife as mine!

Dr. Crane's Editorial

A number of references have been made of late in newspaper to the place and importance of the lower prairie.

When the Southern Pacific Railroad recently added new locomotives of a large scale to its passenger service the fact came to light that per pound a prairie locomotive cost 17.5 cents a pound. Prunes cost 18 cents a pound in California.

As an industry the raising of prunes has assumed importance with a suddenness that places it almost on a par with the phenomenal growth of the automobile and the moving picture industries.

The first prune planted in the United States was brought from France in 1856. It was planted in California as an experiment from which little was expected.

Only in 1876 was the first serious attempt made to cultivate prunes on a large scale in the United States. The first real prune orchard was planted there.

Two years later the crop in the United States was 35,000 pounds and in 1906 it had reached a total of nearly 1,000,000 pounds and has been growing steadily ever since.

BEAUTY

An aid to harmonious and successful living

TO live satisfactorily is to live successfully, and inasmuch as the home is the background for life, it should supply the rest and stimulation which sends us out refreshed, filled with the zest of living.

The art of beautiful and harmonious living is daily becoming better understood. We are coming to know that beauty around us means beauty within. Ugliness and sordidness is disappearing—soon it will be no longer tolerated. . . . From harmonious surroundings we unconsciously absorb a sensation of restfulness and well-being. . . . Eye and brain are soothed, and there is joy and stimulation in a happily colorful abode. . . . And the vast gulf between sordidness and success, between ugliness and beauty, is easily bridged by TASTE and INTELLIGENCE. It is not a matter of money. . . . An artistic wall covering, well polished floors, harmonious relation between floors, walls and furniture in a room—such things as these form the basis of satisfactory living.

Artistic and Appropriate WALLPAPERS

A COMPREHENSIVE collection of wall papers is offered at this sale, including the flat tones and the figured surfaces, in a wide range of decoration to suit any period of treatment—the newer distinct motifs with their brilliant colors, the tapestry designs of unobtrusive richness. . . . For those who prefer the plain papers as a background for furniture and pictures, there is a wide choice. Some of the figured patterns are in Colonial simplicity, others in the florid French style, while there is an extensive range of the gay new designs. These are priced to unusual advantage, and must be seen to be appreciated. Your visit of inspection does not obligate you to buy.

Exiled Nephew of Porfirio Diaz Damns Mexican Government

OVERHEAD STOP SIGNALS URGED BY MAGISTRATE

Motorists Complain They Cannot See the Present
Signs on Pavement

Magistrate McLeod, in open court Thursday afternoon, stated that he believed that overhead standards with the word "stop" written on them should be used at the entrances to stop streets instead of the present system of painting the word on the pavement.

Motorists complain that their eyes are at least 100 feet ahead of their car while they are driving and they have no chance to see the word, and in the event of driving in heavy traffic they sometimes forget to stop at the street.

A. E. Poppel, city prosecutor, said the matter is being taken under consideration.

Max Criswell was fined $2 and costs for parking a car on Jasper longer than 20 minutes, while George H. Ford and Pat G. Ford paid the same fine for similar offences.

William Beyer was fined $20 and costs or 15 days for operating a truck without a chauffeur's license. The boy's father demanded "how come" but was told to go see the magistrate about it, as $20 was the minimum allowed under the act.

Norman Julian for speeding was fined $10 and costs or 10 days. John Wear and James Anderson paid the costs of the court for not stopping at a "stop" street.

For parking cars opposite parking areas for a period longer than five minutes the following were fined: Roy Shepherd, $2 and costs; William Duncan, $1 and costs; Marcus Street, $1 and costs; William McDonald, $1 and costs; Bryce Jones, $1 and costs; Russell L. Kutz was fined $2 and costs for parking his car further than two feet from the curb.

Ralph H. Trough was fined the costs of the court for not reporting an accident.

Annie Rotha was assessed cost of court by Magistrate Murphy on Thursday for allowing poultry to run at large.

LAW AGAINST CHURCH CALLED NULL AND VOID

Man Who Engineered Three
Revolutions Calls Calles
Usurper

Exclusive to Bulletin

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 3.—Mexico has not had a legal government or a legal constitution since 1913, and the only basis on which its present government and constitution rest is the illegal one of armed force.

This is the blunt statement of General Felix Diaz, nephew of the famous Don Porfirio Diaz, who held office as president of Mexico for a long time, but never any other man before or since.

Gen. Diaz is living quietly on a secluded New Orleans residence street, a fugitive and exile from the land of birth. Initiator of three revolutions since the overthrow of his uncle's government 13 years ago, he has never for years won the place of his famous namesake. Putting his back to the wall, Diaz tried to escape a firing squad.

Denounces Calles' Regime

In an exclusive interview, the first he has given since he entered the country, he gives his opinion of the present Mexican regime and he says: "I am of the opinion that the revolution, as the regime and the old laws are null and void, and therefore are in the process of annulment."

When Oct. 1, 1913, when Victoriano Huerta dissolved the Mexican congress, every law that has been passed has been illegal, and continues to be illegal. The constitution of 1917 especially has been condemned as illegal by many prominent lawyers.

The latest decree of President Calles regarding the religious question is absurd. They are absurd because they violate the same constitution they are invoked to fill.

"President Calles has no legal power to make those laws. He is not specifically qualified to act as president, and while the religious laws violate article 13 of the constitution of 1917, that constitution itself has never been legally adopted."

All Rules Disputed

"Then," he was asked, "your view is that since Oct. 1, 1913 all Mexican laws had been a series of illegal decrees, remaining in power only so long as they could maintain themselves by force or arms."

"Yes," he replied, "but the laws that are null and void are far as legal procedure is concerned."

"Yes, that is the situation," replied Gen. Diaz.

The constitution of 1917, which was in force when Porfirio Diaz's government fell, provided that all amendments should be passed by a majority of state legislatures. This procedure, Gen. Diaz says, was not followed when Carranza's men adopted the constitution of 1917; hence that constitution is void.

Gen. Diaz asked to be excused from discussing the possibility of a new revolution in Mexico. As an exile living in the United States, he said, it would not be fitting for him to predict armed disturbances in Mexico.

His own career, up to the time he fled this country, reads like a romantic novel.

Exile to Office

Education as the nephew of the president at Chapultepec, Mexico's famous military academy, he was granted with honors, and became headmaster of the federal district. Next he became governor of the state of Oaxaca, and was charged there when Madero led his successful revolt against the old regime.

In 1913 he led a revolt against the Madero government and established headquarters at Vera Cruz. Federal forces captured the city and imprisoned him in a military prison in the castle of San Juan de Ulua. He was later removed to Mexico city, where he gained his freedom, and a year later organized a new revolution.

This revolt had better success, and Madero fell and Victoriano Huerta rose to power. Diaz ran for president at the next election, but he was managed to get him out of the country, and he was elected himself.

In 1915, Diaz started another revolt. This also failed and he was captured, with excellent prospects of facing a firing squad. But his life was spared on condition that he leave the country and allow that time he had been living in New Orleans.

2,000 Fine Bacon Hogs Raised by Juveniles

WINNIPEG, Man., Sept. 3.—More than 2,000 high grade bacon hogs have been raised by the boys and girls while sitting along the lines of the Canadian National railway in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta this year, according to a survey just completed by officers of the agricultural department of the company in connection with preparations being made for the annual competition for the W. J. Bush Bacon Club trophy which came with it the boys and girls swine club championship of Canada.

In this work thirty-two clubs are engaged, all with a membership averaging 25, so that the total number of young swine breeders in the prairie provinces embraces a membership of approximately 800.

London Woman Bandit Mystifies Scotland Yard

Daring Robberies Credited to Female Leader of Gang,
Who Eludes Attempts at Capture

LONDON, Sept. 3.—London's hatched bandit, who is believed to have been observed to move restlessly during the last two weeks, has not yet been captured by Scotland Yard, but the international famous female is seriously considering leaving London for her trail.

The cleverest operative of Scotland Yard thus far have been unable to discover her identity. One of the most astounding features of the case is the fact that no policeman who has seen her—and also has been seen several times, has been able to formulate any accurate description because of her adaptability to various disguises.

Some report her as dark and slim, while others maintain she is of heavy build and has blonde hair. In each robbery she has directed operations from a motor car in which she drove the thieves away. In every case but one she has been able to escape herself and accomplices through the police net set to entrap her and her band. On the last robbery they were captured. They refused to disclose the identity of their queen.

FEED A COLD?

The old fiction of curing a cold by overloading the stomach has been exploded. The answer today by Dr. McCoy, most famous of dieticians, is an emphatic

NO!

This and scores of other errors of diet which are responsible for most of the diseases existing today are dealt with in a wonderful series of daily Bulletin articles now running by

WHEAT PRICES RECOVERING

Extensive Short Covering and Labor Day Holiday Are Factors

WINNIPEG, Sept. 3.—After receding to low points during the morning, wheat prices remained stout ground in the final hour of trading this afternoon and closed 7 1/2 to 1 1/2 cents higher. At the low point of the day the October futures implied the $1.80 mark, but were reported to have been at $1.81 1/2. November closed at $1.81 1/2, and May at $1.82 1/2.

Extensive short-covering to open up accounts for the week-end and Labor Day developed late in the session and this was the main factor in the advance. The trade volume was not heavy, but good and immediate companies were active in the market during the morning. Wheat trade was reported to have been more than a million bushels of Manitoba for deferred contracts. Trade volume was again light in the afternoon, but the market continued to follow the trend of the day. Early losses were recovered, and a steady advance in the market closed at 1 1/2 to 1 1/2 cents higher, though trade was not better. Cash markets were featureless.
